

Public Speaking Study Guide

Chapter 17

Five of these questions will be on the chapter quiz and the other five will be on the exam. While these questions are specifically from the 10th edition, you should be able to get the answers from previous editions as well.

1. One main purpose of a speech of introduction is to: _____
2. According to your textbook, the best way to create a sense of anticipation and drama in a speech of introduction is to: _____
3. As your textbook explains, when you give a speech of introduction you should be sure to adapt your remarks to the: _____
4. According to your textbook, the main purpose of a speech of presentation is to present: _____
5. When giving a speech of presentation, you should usually: _____
6. According to your textbook, in a speech of acceptance a speaker should usually: _____
7. According to your textbook, a speech that pays tribute to a person, a group, an institution, or an idea is called a: _____
8. According to your textbook, the fundamental purpose of a commemorative speech is to: _____
9. As explained in your textbook, when delivering a commemorative speech, you should take special care to: _____
10. As your textbook explains, a successful commemorative speech usually depends on the speaker's ability to: _____